Subject: Microsoft Settlement

I would personally like to comment upon the Microsoft antitrust settlement. It certainly "could" discourage people from striking out on their own and striving to be the best.

I personally object to the whole antitrust case with Microsoft. As Americans we should be able to grow our business as much as possible. I am a small company, but certainly feel that "if" I were to become a LARGE company I would feel threatened by government because of this particular antitrust case going on today. I think Americans should be free, with no interference from government - unless fraud is going on - and I do not think it is with Microsoft. They have great products, and because they have developed something of far superior quality to other companies, they are being stifled and punished. I truly do believe it is a crime - and the results of some poor losers' attempts to discredit someone that did better in their plans, production and products, than they.
